

SAVE THE DATE...

Towson University Department of Family Studies and Community Development

Third Annual Supervisor Training Workshop

Friday January 8, 2010

8:30AM—4:30PM

Towson University Union Chesapeake Rooms

Co-Sponsored by:

Towson University Graduate Program in School Psychology,
Father Martin's Ashley & Johns Hopkins Children's Center—Child Life
Department

THIRD ANNUAL SUPERVISOR TRAINING WORKSHOP

Registration
opens Nov. 1st

➤ Early Bird:

$50

11/01/09-12/08/09

➤ Regular Fee:

$60

12/09/09-01/04/10

➤ At the Door:

$70

Registration Fee
Includes Box
Lunch

To Register, Visit
the Family Studies
Website at:

<http://www.towson.edu/fmst/>

Click on Workshops & Conferences

Register and Pay
On-line or Print and Mail in Your Registration Form

This workshop is designed for human service professionals currently in a supervisory position as well as those seeking to develop or refine leadership and supervision skills.

TOPICS INCLUDE:

- Ethics in the Supervisory Relationship—2 Hour Session!
- Structuring the Supervisory Session
- The Art of Constructive Confrontation: Building a Professional Package
- Encouraging Critical Thinking in the Supervisory Relationship

CEUs: 7 Category I CEUs approved for social work; 7 Category A CEUs approved for counseling; 7 CEUs approved for licensed psychologists and certified school psychologists

Featuring:

Frank Delano, LMSW & Jill Shaw, LMHC

- ◆ Frank Delano is the Director of the JBFCS Institute for Child Care Professionalization and Training and an Adjunct Faculty member at the Fordham University Graduate School of Social Service. He has published numerous journal articles and presented nationally and internationally.
- ◆ Jill Shah is Director of Housing and Quality Management at Lenox Hill Neighborhood House as well as a nationally known Training Consultant. She has authored articles on constructive confrontation, confronting in a culturally sensitive manner, and power in the supervisory relationship.

For more information or with questions, please contact:

Cindy Vejar, Ph.D.
Department of Family Studies
Phone: 410-704-4202
E-mail : cvejar@towson.edu

